TROOPS ANNIHILATED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

San Antonio, Texas, June 24.—Complete disorganization of the two troops that were engaged in the disastrous combat Wednesday morning at Carrizal with Carranza troops, and the practical annihilation of those actually in the fight, was indicated in a report from General Pershing to General Funston today.

AMERICANS ADVANCE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chihuahua City, June 24.—American columns have been seen advancing from the American field base in the direction of San Antonio, Mexico, and Ojo Caliente, and General Trevino has issued orders to attack them if they do not immediately retreat.

General Trevino said the Americans would get the same treatment they received at Carrizal, as he is determined to carry out his orders to the letter.

In this, he said, he had all his subordinates with him, and they will remain with him in case of a rupture.

26 AMERICAN TROOPERS DIE AT CARRIZAL

Columbus, N. M., Report Says All of Troops Are Accounted for at Army Base Save Forty.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, N. M., June 24.—All the American forces which engaged the Mexicans at Carrizal have returned to the field base excepting Captains Boyd and Morey, Lieutenant Adair and forty troopers, according to a report today by arrivals from the interior.

Mexican reports that 12 Americans were found dead on the scene of the engagement would indicate that fourteen troopers either died from their wounds, were killed in later fighting or have not succeeded in reaching their base. Three officers are believed to be dead.

According to this report, the total of American dead in the battle probably was 26, unless some of the troops are still wandering in search of the expeditionary force.

Baker, secretary of war, and Robert Lansing, secretary of state.

ment, Adjutant General Hough announced today.

No orders for the movement of Ohio troops had been issued late today.

The First Regiment, Ohio National Guards, with headquarters in Cincinnati, and the Seventh Regiment, with headquarters at Marietta, may be called out for Mexican border service within a few days, according to unofficial word received by General Hough today from former Adjutant General Critchfield, at Washington.

These regiments were not included in the first call for Ohio troops because they were not a part of the two Ohio brigade formations.

Major Robert W. Mearns, of the United States Regular Army, arrived here today, under detail from the commander of the central division, to act as chief mustering in officer to conduct the mustering of the Ohio National Guard into federal service.

CONFINED IN PENITENTIARY

Seventeen Negro Troopers Will Later Be Taken to Juarez and Surrendered to Americans.

Chihuahua City, Mexico, June 25.—The seventeen American negro troops captured in the battle of Carrizal have been placed in the penitentiary here.

There have been no arrangements for removing them to Juarez to be surrendered to American authorities.

Lem Spillsbury, a Mormon scout, captured at Carrizal, also is in prison.

The prisoners were assaulted by Mexican civilians as they were being transferred from the train to the penitentiary.

According to the authorities, they are being well treated.

It was officially announced that none of the prisoners brought here will be hanged, "that not being the custom of a civilized country," according to the statement.

OHIO MAN PRISONER

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chihuahua City, June 24.—Ernest Lee, private of Huntington, W. Va., or Harvey M. Lee, private, of Gallipolis, Ohio, is one of the American prisoners captured at Carrizal.

The list gives only the name Lee, and these two men are enrolled in the company.

HAY MEASURE IS REFORMED

Relief Provision of $1,000,000 for Dependents Stricken Out.

Draft Into Regular Service Also Modified.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 24.—Stripped of its $1,000,000 relief provision for families of militiamen, the Senate Military Committee today ordered a favorable report on the Hay resolution, adopted by the House yesterday, authorizing the drafting of the National Guard into the service of the United States.

A substitute for the relief provision directs that militiamen having dependent families should be discharged at once.

The Senate also eliminated the provision that the militiamen to be drafted into the regular service should serve not exceeding three years, thus providing that they shall remain in service for the period of emergency.

Cavalry Troops Were Practically Annihilated at Carrizal By Treacherous Mexicans.

Only Seven Survivors Have Been Able to Struggle Back to Base.

Only Disavowal By Defacto Government Can Avert Break.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 24.—Relations between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico are close to the breaking point today, as a result of the apparent well founded belief that two troops of American cavalry were deliberately massacred Wednesday at Carrizal by Carranza soldiers.

Secretaries Lansing and Baker were at the White House today conferring with President Wilson.

It is known that the possibility of drastic retaliatory action against the Mexican forces in Chihuahua was given consideration.

If the Carranza Government accepts responsibility for the attack at Carrizal, it is considered virtually certain by officials that occupation of most of the northern Mexico will be ordered by President Wilson to take place as rapidly as the necessary military forces can be placed at the disposal of General Funston.

Action must await further reports from General Pershing.

His message last night indicating that only seven men of the two troops of cavalry had survived. In addition to those taken prisoners, had not been supplemented at an early hour.

It is believed the first act of the Washington Government, when fuller information is at hand, will be to demand repudiation by the Carranza Government.

Preliminary reports have convinced officials here that the American troops were deliberately led into a trap.

The only question remaining to be settled, it is indicated, is whether the Carranza Government ordered the attack or it was the work of a subordinate officer.

In the latter event, unqualified repudiation of his act and the immediate surrender of prisoners will probably be demanded.

NEW MONSTER OF THE SKIES

(Associated Press Cable)

Berne, Switzerland, June 24.—People living along the Swiss border of the lake of Constance have been greatly surprised over the movements of the new monster-ship, much larger than all other Zeppelins, that has been making trial trips over the lake. The length of this ship is said to be 240 yards, or almost double that of other Zeppelins. The cubic contents is even more than double, 54,000 cubic meters instead of 20,000, and the number of the gondolas is four instead of two. These gondolas are said to be armed with guns, machine guns, and a new kind of air torpedo.

Despite its huge bulk the ship gives the impression of fish-like slenderness. The steering gear form an exact cross. The motors are 3,000-4,000 horse power, able to give the airship a speed of 90 kilometers an hour. To avoid breakdowns, the motors are in double number. The crew is said to be 30 to 40 men. The ship can reach a height of three to four miles.

TROOPS ENGAGE IN TRUCK FARMING

(By Associated Press Cable)

Paris, June 24.—The proposition of M. Melne, Minister of Agriculture, to effect cultivation of abandoned land by the civilians population has been extended to the army. Wherever there is uncultivated land in the proximity of garrisons or camps of troops, the auxiliaries and territorials not continually on other service are detailed for several hours work each day in market gardening. The property either to be sold for combined profit of the soldiers working the land and the owners or consumed by the troops. Civilians will not be allowed to draw any profit whatever from this exploitation.

Among the civilians groups will be organized similar to the workmen's gardening societies that existed before the war, to work all lands abandoned by their proprietors in the neighborhood of towns. These will be co-operative and the produce as well as the expense divided equally among the participants.

Almost one-half of this amount was realized from the sale of butter, more than 35,000 pounds of which were manufactured.

NEW OVERLAND IS A "PEACH"

Like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky has come the announcement of a new model by The Willys-Overland Company, of Toledo, Ohio, which is destined, in the opinion of those who have already seen it, to cause a greater stir in automobile circles than any of the many sensational developments in motor car building which have occurred during recent years. The most powerful low priced car in the world is the description given of this new product of the great Toledo factory and it is to be known technically as The Willys-Overland Company's New Series Model 75 B. In spite of the nationwide lamentations concerning the increasing cost of materials, labor and manufacturing equipment, this latest motor vehicle is to be sold at $635 for the touring car and $620 for the roadster—price which are said to be equally as sensational as the performance of the car itself.

The New Series Model 75 B Overland naturally bases its claims to being the most powerful low priced car in the world on its motor and on the exhaustive tests, which its builders insist have shown conclusively its superiority over anything of its kind ever manufactured heretofore. With a larger bore now 3 3/4 inches and a 5 inch stroke, it develops 31 1/2 horsepower at 1550 revolutions per minute. This performance, at this low speed, in the opinions of those expert in automobile building, promises the greatest possible power from the motor, with the smallest amount of wear on the motor itself. Like a flash, this amazing motor will take the car 2 1/2 miles an hour to 53 miles an hour, on high, with all the ease of action so widely advertised in the big, powerful machines selling at five and six times its list price.

The low price of the new car naturally implies economy, but the Willys-Overland officials show that, unlike many other instances of low priced cars, the economy does not end with the purchase price. And here again, the efficiency of that wonder-motor, as the Overland officials refer to it, is demonstrated. Tests have repeatedly proven that this sensational car will accomplish 25 miles on one gallon of gasoline and 18 to 20 miles per gallon is common performance in average all-round use.

A two unit, six-volt electric starting and lighting system, with head, tail and dash lamps and head light dimmers; ammeter to register the electric current; one-man mohair top and top boot; curtains fastened from the inside; built-in, rain-vision ventilating type windshield; magnetic speedometer; revolving oil indicator; gasoline gauge; electric horn; combination tail light and license bracket; hinged robe rail; foot rest; tire carriers in rear; extra demountable rim; full set of tools, tire repair kit, jack and pump.

The drive, of course, is left hand with a center control to facilitate driving, while the electric control buttons on the steering column enable the driver—man, woman or child—to control the horn, light and ignition without stooping from the natural position at the wheel.

The motor is cooled by the most advanced thermo-siphon system, no pump being required. The radiator is of the noted Overland cellular type with vertical circulation and the whole shell is pressed from a single sheet on steel. A Tiltson carburetor is used and this make of carburetor needs no introduction to anyone acquainted with the best in motor cars. One of its greatest points of desirability is its extremely simple adjustment. An improved ignition system also adds to the efficiency of the new model. It provides a sure, hot spark at even the lowest speeds.

Discovered at Last

A great many citizens have been certain that the unusual weather conditions prevailing this season and last should be attributed to the war in Europe. There are some contrary folks who have always been a little skeptical about that and have insisted that while men might shoot each other and create havoc among man's creations, they were not big enough yet, even in their anger, to disturb weather conditions on the other side of the world.

Naturally, with such a difference of opinion prevailing, there has been some considerable argument over a subject about which an argument can always be started.

Fortunately for all concerned, the cause of all the unusual conditions has been discovered. A local citizen, more observant than most mortals, noticed Friday morning that the moon sailing white and cold, high up in the western sky, was flat on its face—upside down.

"Knowing" as we all do that the moon exerts a powerful influence on weather conditions, just as soon as it was discovered that the moon was upside down, a similar condition in the weather was accounted for by everyone.

Now that we have found the cause of conditions the only thing that would make us feel better would be for the moon to turn over on its back and the weather conditions to become normal.

War Seems Imminent

That war with Mexico is imminent is apparent to even the most casual observer, and to those who study carefully every move made in the great crisis, those who hope for a peaceful solution, even in spite of the overt act of Wednesday, there is not much of encouragement.

That President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker are unable to see much brightness behind the ominous cloud of war which hovers over the southern boundary is evident from the fact that at General Funston's request, the national guardsmen will be rushed at once to the border for service just as soon as a regiment is recruited to its full number without waiting for mobilization and movement of the entire state troops.

Congress has passed the Hay army bill authorizing the president to draft national Guardsmen into the federal service declaring that an emergency exists at this time.

The necessary legislation providing for the care of dependents of soldiers who enter the federal service has been enacted. There is an entire absence of delay and useless argument. The nation, in all the departments of government, executive and legislative, has set determinedly about the task which confronts us.

President Wilson, who has labored so earnestly to keep the nation out of war has the sympathy and the support of the entire people. Those who criticized him so severely see now more clearly the difficulties which confronted him and are willing to concede frankly, in view of the, now apparent, lack of intelligence of the Mexican masses and lack of honor among the leaders, that the marvel is that we have been able so long to avoid an armed conflict.

Not a few people are realizing for the first time the seriousness and the cost of the task ahead of us.

No nation was ever guilty of more unjustifiable action, no nation has ever had to deal with a more patient, peace loving executive than President Wilson has proven himself and it is a cruel turn of fortune that his every effort for peace and for the good of the Mexican people has been tortured into an act of hostility by unscrupulous Mexican leaders.

Poisoning the Dogs

A short time ago, some creature who walked and talked like a human being, occupied his time, or a considerable portion of it at least, in scattering broadcast over the city, poison for dogs.

There is something radically wrong with a human being who will poison dogs. There are times when it becomes necessary to take the life of a dog—to end its suffering when no relief can be furnished, to prevent the spread of disease or to protect human life, but there are humane methods by which that can be done and regularly constituted authorities whose duty it is to do that work.

But the creature who scatters poison indiscriminately throughout the community exhibits a disregard for the plans of the Creator, a lack of human impulses and affections which stamps him as dangerous.

The death of the four-footed member of the family is sometimes one of the deepest sorrows of childhood and anyone who would be guilty of the criminal negligence which the indiscriminate scattering of poisoned food for dogs entails—well, about the "no accountant" dog that lives seems to have an equal standing, by comparison.

Fortunately the reign of terror under the dog poisoner seems to have come to an end.

No longer are men, women and children, possessing the better impulses, disturbed for hours by the sight of a fine dog lying prone in the streets suffering in dumb agony from the effects of a poison.

Everyone hopes the poisoner has quit for all time, his murderous work.

Poetry For Today

JUNE ROSES.
June, soft summer's mistress,
Bids adieu to spring;
Then she gives her roses
Liberty to fling.

All their hidden sweetness
To the hungry air,
Which is ever sighing
For new charms. Oh, bear,

Perfume from the roses,
Breezes, in your flight!
Tell the hastening summer
Of the earth's delight.

In her blossoming gardens,
In her lengthening days,
In her shimmering waters,
In her song-bird's lays,

Creep into the forest,
Wind, with slower tread;
Whisper to the silence
That when roses wed.

Earth gives forth her fairest;
Then, in silvery voice,
Toast the Royal Rosesses,
June's unvarying choice!

The Specter of Pauperism.
Do you know that in the United States sixty-six out of every hundred people that die leave no estate whatever? Do you know that out of the remaining thirty-four only nine leave estates larger than $5,000 and that the average of the balance of twenty-five is a little less than $1,300? Do you know that at the age of sixty-five ninety-seven out of every hundred in America are partly or wholly dependent upon relatives, friends or the public for their daily bread, for their clothing and a roof under which to sleep? We all know that the one safeguard against pauperism by the countries of Europe has been thrift. France, Germany, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland have been the leaders in thrift. Do you realize that according to government statistics 98 per cent of the American people are living from day to day on their wages and that a loss of employment would mean pauperism for all but 2 per cent of us?—S. W. Straus in Leslie's.

THE EMERALD ISLE

In Area It Is a Little Smaller Than Our State of Maine.

ITS SLUMP IN POPULATION.

One of the Few Sections of the Civilized World That Have Decreased in Numbers in the Past Century—Its Beautiful Lakes and Rivers.

The historical and political importance of Ireland has created in the minds of many Americans an exaggerated idea of the island's physical proportions and the density of its population.

The whole of Ireland embraces an area slightly less than the state of Maine, but with a population six times as dense. In comparison with the governing country it is three-fifths as large as England and Wales, with one-ninth the population. The island is one of the very few sections of the civilized world where the population has shown a marked decrease during the last century.

The first census of the island, taken in 1821, recorded a population almost 50 per cent larger than at the present time, while the census of 1841 showed the high water mark of more than 8,000,000, nearly twice the present population. This remarkable decrease, due largely to emigration, began after the famine brought about by the destructive disease which attacked the potato crop of 1845. This calamity resulted in the withdrawal of more than a million acres from cultivation within two years.

Incidentally the potato, which has played such an important role in the life of Ireland during the last 300 years, is not indigenous to the island, but was one of the food gold mines discovered by the Spaniards in their conquest of Peru. The country is indebted to Sir Walter Raleigh for her "Irish" potatoes, as it was he who brought them from what is now North Carolina and planted them on his estate near Cork in 1585.

Ireland lies on the western rim of what was once a part of continental Europe. It has numerous mountains, the highest being the McGillicuddy reeks (3,414 feet) in the Killarney region, but there is no mountain chain or elevated "backbone." There is a more or less well defined plain, however, the distinguishing feature of which is its bogs—the black bog producing the famous peat fuel, differentiated from the brown bogs of the mountains. If the whole island were brought to a mean level it would rise 400 feet above the sea.

The lakes, or loughs, of Ireland are among its most widely appreciated physical characteristics, their scenic beauty being the inspiration of poets, painters and musicians. Nor have the Irish rivers been overlooked in appraisals of the island's beauties. The Shannon, which flows for 250 miles, is the longest water course in the United Kingdom. It is navigated by large steamers for half its length and is connected with Dublin by means of the Grand and the Royal canals.

Although coal is found in most of the thirty-two counties into which the island is divided and there is considerable iron ore, mining is not an important industry. Gold was being mined in a modest way in County Wicklow at the time of the rebellion of 1798, but the works were destroyed and the source of the metal has never been rediscovered.

Agriculture and stock raising are the chief occupations of the inhabitants. At one time the woolen manufactures of the island were formidable rivals of English factories, but hostile legislation gave the industry a check from which it has never recovered. As the Irish have raised flax for centuries, the manufacture of linen early became one of the important industries of the country. Irish whisky is an important article of export, and one of the largest breweries in the world is located at Dublin.

Shipbuilding in the great yards at Belfast is one of the most widely known Irish activities, and the deep sea and coast fisheries afford a livelihood for many thousands.

Thanks to the temperate influence of the west winds from the Atlantic, the thermometer rarely reaches freezing.

point in winter, while the average for a summer day is 60 degrees.

CLOTHES AND THE MAN.

How to Be Well Dressed and Not Look Like a Cloudy Winter Day.

In the American Magazine is an account of one of the most successful insurance solicitors in the country, who attributes a large part of his success to the fact that he always looks well dressed and prosperous.

"If you have only one suit of clothes, keep that one suit clean and pressed all the time," he says. "Press your trousers yourself every day if necessary. I have pressed my trousers lots of times. Keep your shoes shined."

"If you can afford several suits, change off from one suit to another frequently and keep all of them spotless and well pressed. I never wear a suit longer than the second day at a time. To change every day is better. It gives the clothes a chance to 'rest.' I always hang my clothes on hangers the minute I take them off. It gives them a chance to 'come back' into shape and the nap to come up again."

"It is a great economy to have lots of good clothes. A suit will last twice and three times as long and always look well if you keep changing off from one to another. Besides, people get tired of seeing a man in the same suit day after day for a whole season."

"When I started in the insurance business years ago I realized that to make a good appearance was to look prosperous, and I paid much attention to my dress. I avoided solid colors and always selected clothes with some life in them. A dash of color about your person, whether it be in the plaid of the suit, the shirt, tie, hat or handkerchief protruding from the coat pocket, will take away the monotony of one's appearance and is sure to please. But, in adding this 'life' and 'pep' to one's appearance, avoid all things, the colors that clash. Get clothes with 'snap' and 'life,' avoid those which make the wearer look like a cloudy winter day."

Ring Life Preservers.

"The worst trouble about a life preserver," said an old sailor, "is that few people know what to do with one when it's thrown to them. Many a man would drown in trying to get a life preserver over his head. The average person struggling about in the water would try to lift up the big life ring and put it over his head. That only causes the man to sink deeper and take more water into his lungs."

"The proper way to approach a life preserver in the water is to take hold of the side nearest you and press upon it with all your weight. That causes the other side to fly up in the air and down over your head, 'ringing' you as neatly as a man ringing a cane at a country fair. After that the drowning man can be rescued."

WON THE AUDIENCE.

Bernhardt's Clever Trick Turned Coldness to Enthusiasm.

Once when Sarah Bernhardt was acting in Italy the audience was rather unfriendly, owing to the fact that the prices of the seats had been considerably increased.

After the first act Mme. Bernhardt called her maid and gave her some directions in an undertone. The maid left the theater, but speedily returned, and just before her mistress went on the stage again she handed her something as she stood in the wings. The scene progressed. "The Divine Sarah" seemed goaded. She tried to clear her throat, passed her handkerchief across her mouth, and suddenly a stream of blood poured from her lips, and she fell into the arms of the actor with whom she was playing.

The curtain was promptly rung down, and the audience waited breathlessly to hear the worst. All their previous vexation was turned to sympathy, and when it was announced that the great actress would shortly resume her part rather than disappoint them the cheering was deafening. When madame came on again the people applauded her as loudly as formerly they had shown their disapproval, and the rest of the play was one long triumph.

But that audience never knew the truth, for when madame had sent her maid out of the theater it was to get her a small bladder of red ink, which she kept in her handkerchief and which she bit through with her teeth so as to produce the alarming effect that had transformed her audience.

AGGREGATE STRENGTH OF COMPANY M NOW 88 MEN

Recruiting Increases and Local Troops Are Ready to Respond to Summons to the Border—Company Will Attend Church Services at M. E. Church in Morning and Presbyterian in Evening.

Company M now has an aggregate of 88 men, with prospects of still further increasing this number within the next 24 hours, the recruiting showing better results during the past 24 hours than at any previous time.

Private Strange of Greenfield still holds the record for recruits, obtaining two additional men at Mt. Sterling Saturday morning, and bringing his total number of recruits up to eleven. The boys pronounce Strange "some recruiter."

At the present time there is insufficient equipment for a few of the men enrolled and the new equipment must come from the War Department direct.

Of the entire enlistment, three men of Company M have not been located, and all efforts are being made to do so. Unless they respond in the very near future it is expected that the trio will be dealt with severely, as there is very little possibility that the men do not know that they are wanted. Furthermore they have disobeyed the rules by failing to file their address with the commander.

The three men are Kirby McCarty, Estel Stookey and Wm. Evans, and Captain O. E. Hardway will be greatly pleased for any information which may lead to locating the strays.

The company was given another long hike, part of it across country, Saturday morning, and later enjoyed a plunge at the Y. M. C. A.

Sunday morning the company will march in a body to Grace church for morning worship.

Sunday evening the Company will attend services at the Presbyterian church.

The Men's Bible Class of Grace church will be taught by Second Lieutenant Wm. W. Curtiss, who is teacher of the Brotherhood class of men in the Presbyterian church of Greenfield. Lieutenant Curtiss was permitted to spend a few hours at his home in Greenfield Saturday.

The Washington boys are proud of the Greenfield boys, who are all splendid chaps, and the new Second Lieutenant holds the highest esteem of every officer and man in the company.

Capt. O. E. Hardway is proving himself an excellent officer and is handling the Company like a real veteran.

OPEN STATION FOR RECRUITING

Saturday morning a recruiting station was opened on the court house lawn with First Lieutenant Billie E. Paul in charge.

A large tent was erected on the lawn in front of the court house and field chairs and table and other equipment placed within the tent. The Stars and Stripes float in front of the tent.

One of the "dog tents" used for sleeping purposes also was erected near the main tent, with sleeping blankets, showing how the men sleep. Each of the little tents will accommodate two men and the carrying of the tent is equally divided between each of the two men occupying it.

The wig-wag, or signal corps of Company M were busy about the lawn, practicing with their signals, and a soldier in uniform and carrying a gun was stationed near the recruiting office.

It was expected that a number of recruits would be added to the enrollment during the day. Pearly Kneisley, of Good Hope, was the first man to enlist Saturday morning. He is about 37 years of age.

SORROWING FRIENDS PAY LAST SAD TRIBUTE

One of the largest funerals ever held in Grace church was that of Mr. Ralph Allen, held at ten o'clock Saturday morning.

The terrible shock of Mr. Allen's sudden death had aroused the entire community to deep sympathy. The personal friends of the deceased and they were many for Ralph Allen made friends wherever he went; the lodge brethren of the I. O. O. F., representing in large numbers the different branches of the order, and the widely extended members of a large family connection, all gathered in a common sorrow and heart-breaking regret over an untimely death.

The Staunton neighborhood, Mr. Allen's home and where he will be greatly missed, was specially represented.

There were few dry eyes in the church as the casket, almost buried beneath a wealth of flowers, was borne to the chancel to rest amid a bank of flowers during the hour of service.

The I. O. O. F. and D. of K. occupied seats reserved in the center of the auditorium.

The services were conducted with great impressiveness by Rev. T. M. Ricketts, of Carroll, former Staunton pastor, assisted by Rev. Ludlow, of Staunton, and Rev. Long, of Frankfort, Rev. J. Vernon Stone and Rev. Wm. B. Gage, of this city.

Rev. Ricketts read the memoir and followed it with a fine address. He dwelt specially upon the sterling character of the deceased, a "son of the church," born and raised within its influence, of his big hearted sympathy and refusal to cherish resentment. The minister referred with deep feeling to Mr. Allen's devotion to his home and offered much of comfort to the wife and son, the parents, brothers and sisters.

Favorite hymns of Mr. Allen's: "Abide With Me," "Sometime We'll Understand," and "Rock of Ages," were beautifully sung by Misses Madonna and Louise Larrimer, Messrs J. H. Hicks and H. C. Ireland.

The I. O. O. F. conducted its ritualistic service before leaving the church. Mr. Allen had been one of the foremost officers in the lodge.

A long funeral cortege formed for the burial in the Washington cemetery.

At the grave both the I. O. O. F. and the D. of K. held their beautiful ritual for the dead and deposited the emblems on the casket.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. M. E. Rowe, C. V. Lanum, Frank Miller, R. J. McLean, J. W. Elliott, Virgil Vincent.

The floral remembrances, were wonderfully beautiful and in great number. Special designs were sent by Fayette Encampment, Imperial Rebekah Lodge, Imperial Degree Staff, Temple Lodge, Officers of Temple Lodge I. O. O. F., Staunton Sunday School, Staunton W. C. T. U., Staunton Foreign Missionary, Employees Bachert Garage.

Flowers were sent from all over the county and from long distances. Relatives who came from a distance to attend the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen, Moderns-ville, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shimp, Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer, Mr. Jason Shimp, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lowe, Mrs. George Conner of Greenfield; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ellis, Mrs. Earl Robbins, of Sabina, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Arley Wood and son Byron, Mt. Sterling; Mr. Fred Allen, Midland City; Mrs. Clyde Fisher and Mrs. Hattie Pond, Wilmington; Dr. and Mrs. J. A. McCoy and children, of Waynesville, Mr. and Mrs. David Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Jones, of West Lancaster, Mrs. Heater, Mr. Harry Heater, Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fisher, Sabina.

In Social Circles

A brilliant climax to an extraordinary week of gayety among the younger social set, a long-to-be-remembered example of southern hospitality, and the most elaborate affair of its kind ever given in the city was the formal dinner given by Mr. Asa Patterson at the Cherry Hotel, Friday night, complimenting the house guests of Misses Fullerton and Davis, Miss Charlotte Flindt of Spencer, Iowa, Miss Esther Dahl of Duluth, Minn., Miss Dorothy Land of Richmond, Ind., and Miss Mala Manners of Frenchtown, N. J.

It was a dinner of sixteen covers, the table, gleaming in the mellow light of myriad waxy tapers, a florist's masterpiece.

Gracing the center rose a superb basket of Madame Russell and Orphelia roses, particularly veiled in greenery and festoons of white mums, while extending from the basket down the length of the table half-opened buds and swansonia were entwined in ropes of smilax, twisted with maline, and artistically interwoven about the bases of crystal candlesticks, holding tall white candles. At each cover were exquisite nosegays for the girls and fragrant boutonnieres for their escorts.

The dinner was perfectly served by the hotel management in five sumptuous courses that included all the luxuries that the season has to offer. Rosebud cups filled with almonds were at each place; the dinner course was garnished with tiny flags and rosettes; and novel and pretty conceits introduced with each course.

At ten o'clock the guests very reluctantly left the dining room and proceeded to the hotel parlor, where all participated in a lively game of five hundred.

The additional guests were: Misses Nina and Mary Dahl, Dorothy Fullerton, Lillian Davis; Messrs. Jess H. Millikan, Virgil Perrill, Edwards Hopkins, Max G. Dice, James McDonald, Emerson Chapman, Kenneth Kerr of Wilmington.

A motoring party which enjoyed a merry picnic supper at Rock Mills Friday evening including Misses Ruth Reid, Gladys Fenner, Kathleen Davis, Dorothy Rogers, Kath-Hays and Lella Culberson of Mill-edgeville.

Messrs Selsor Fenner, Glen Griffith, Paul Strevey, Robert Craig, Renick Allen, Howard Greeg, Miss Ustick chaperoned.

The women of the Tuesday Kensington Club delightfully entertained their husbands with a picnic supper Thursday evening at Rock Mills.

Thirty motored down to this favorite resort and there was great fun building a big bonfire and cooking the supper out of doors. Boating was also a feature of the evening's pleasure.

Mrs. Anna Bush Coffman complimented Mrs. Herbert Gardner and Mrs. Carrol McCrea, of Toledo, and Miss Elan Crump, of Cincinnati, with a charming three table "Bridge" Friday afternoon.

The girls of Miss Cecile Reeder's Sunday school class of Grace M. E. church gave a penny social in the basement of the church Friday evening at seven-thirty.

The attendance of young people was large and a nice sum was netted for the benefit of the class.

There were several booths arranged around the room for fortune telling and dispensing of refreshments.

The younger set, along with the house guests of Misses Lillian Davis and Dorothy Fullerton, are being entertained by a lawn dance at the country home of Mr. Virgil Perrill, this evening.

Mrs. Blessing's many friends in this city will be glad to know that she is making excellent recovery.

Mr. Walter Patton motored to Springfield Saturday morning to visit his parents for a few days.

Mrs. Bert Garringer and daughter of Good Hope, are spending the day with Mrs. L. E. Garringer.

Mr. John Gibson, of Athens, is the guest of his cousin, Dr. C. A. Teeters and family.

Mrs. Frank Post and daughter Marjorie of Lebanon, are visiting Mrs. Post's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Chaffin came down from Columbus Friday evening to attend the funeral of Mr. Ralph Allen. They are the guests of Mrs. Chaffin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elon Thornton.

Miss Ruth Parrett arrived this morning from a year's study at the Von Ende School of Music, New York, to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Parrett.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rodgers have as their guests Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson and daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Thorp of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Gibson, of Springfield.

Uncle Wallace Creamer, aged 97 years, of Jefferson township, is a business visitor in town today. He was with his sister, Mrs. Kate Worthington, and her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Post, for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen and two children motored through from Riverside, Mich., in response to the sad news of the death of Mr. Allen's brother, Mr. Ralph Allen. The trip was a very hard one of 500 miles. They reached here about 1:30 o'clock Friday night.

Mrs. J. E. Sands arrived Friday from Louisville, Ky., to visit her mother, Mrs. Martha Gallup, and sister, Mrs. E. N. Holloway. Mr. Sands joins her this evening and with his family accompanies Mr. and Mrs. Holloway on the Dahl-Campbell outing. He will be the B. & O. representative of the fourth division. Mrs. Gallup, who has been visiting in Louisville, returned a couple of days ago.

Mr. Estus McVey accompanied his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. McVey, home Friday from Athens, where they attended the Ohio University commencement. Mrs. Herman Snider, a sister, and her husband, of Sabina, also attended the commencement. Saturday Mr. McVey, who has been elected Director of the public schools, returned, taking back with him his little son Emerson, who was born in the Philippines during Mr. McVey's residence there.

GAIN MADE AT VERDUN BY KAISER

Germans Drawing Nearer to the Fortress.

FRENCH LOSE POSITIONS

Russian Advance In Galicia and Volhynia Arrested by the Violent Attacks Delivered by the Teutonic Allies—Slavs, However, Advance Further Into Bukowina — Turks Check Foe In Mesopotamia.

London, June 24.—French positions northeast of the fortress of Verdun have been captured by the Germans. Fighting along a front of more than three miles on the right bank of the Meuse, the German forces, following the usual artillery bombardment and in the face of violent fire from French guns, carried French first line trenches between Hills 321 to 329, and also the Thiaumont fort. At the same time the Germans have held back the advance of the Russian forces from Dvinsk to the Galician border.

Pierce fighting marked the advance toward Verdun, Paris declares in admitting the loss of the trenches and the Thiaumont fort. Further along the line the Germans reached Fleury, about three and one-half miles northeast of Verdun, but Paris says they were repulsed there by a violent counter attack. Paris states the attacks on the woods of Vaux, Cœuvres, Fumil and Chenols and on the Damloup battery were broken and repulsed.

South of the Damloup battery, in the sector of Moulanville, and on the left bank of the Meuse in the region of Hill 304 and Le Mort Homme, the French positions are being heavily bombarded by the German guns.

The Russians have advanced further into Bukowina in pursuit of General Pflanzer's force, but farther north in East Galicia and Volhynia their progress apparently has been arrested by the violent attacks and counter attacks of the Teutonic allies.

Advances for the German and Austrian forces west and southwest of Lutsk in Volhynia and the repulse of Russian counter attacks on the Stokhod and Stry rivers in the same region and along the Galician frontier in the vicinity of Brody are chronicled in the Berlin and Vienna communications.

In Mesopotamia, Constantinople claims to have checked the Russians' advance toward the Mesopotamia plains and to have driven the Russians out of Padiak Pass, on the Persian front, through which they attempted to enter Mesopotamia.

ANTI-MILITARISTS

(By American Press)

New York, June 24.—A group of anti-militarists, in an endeavor to prevent war with Mexico, have decided that the best way to achieve their end is to arrange a conference at El Paso between three representative Americans and three representative Mexicans. Telegrams were dispatched to William Jennings Bryan, David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Leland Stanford university, and Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City, asking them to uphold the American end of the conference. Prominent Mexican civilians have accepted invitations to attend.

The three Mexicans to whom telegrams were dispatched were Dr. Atl, editor of Mexico City; Luis Manuel Rojas, director of the Biblioteca Nacional, Mexico City, and Modesto C. Rolland, a Mexican engineer.

WILL SEND MILITIA TO BORDER

All Departmental Commanders Receive Instructions.

BAKER ISSUES THE ORDER

Organizations to Go to the Mexican Boundary as Rapidly as They Are Mustered Into the Federal Service. House Bill Authorizes Wilson to Draft the Guardsmen For Foreign Service.

Washington, June 24.—Secretary of War Baker has issued orders directing all departmental commanders of the army to send all national guard organizations under their command to the Mexican border as rapidly as they are mustered into the federal service.

The orders directed the commanders to notify General Funston as each organization, infantry, cavalry, field artillery, signal corps, engineer corps or field company, is mustered in. Funston will direct where each organization is to be sent and his request will be carried out without further instructions from Washington.

The house, by unanimous consent, took up and passed a joint resolution, expressing it as the opinion of congress that an emergency now exists justifying the use of the national guard and authorizing the president to draft the militia into the federal service.

service with power to use the state troops in foreign territory. The house also appropriated $1,000,000 for the support of dependent families of enlisted guardsmen.

Rear Admiral Winslow and other American naval officers on the Mexican coasts will protect foreign as well as American interests during the present crisis, and also in case the situation brings about the outbreak of actual hostilities. Foreign diplomats here have conferred with the state department relative to the safety of their nationals, and assurances have been given that the American naval officers will do all they can to protect them.

The same assurance has been given to Japan. The American warships will, therefore, look after Japanese as well as American interests, a fact which completely discredits the unqualified reports that the Japanese government was not in sympathy with the United States in the present crisis.

The war department ordered fourteen high powered aeroplanes in pursuance of its plan to establish an aerial patrol of the Mexican border. The machines, with all spare parts, will cost approximately $275,000. The fourteen aeroplanes will be dispatched at once to the border.

NOTHING DOING

(By American Press)

Tokyo, June 24.—Baron Ishii, Japanese foreign minister, characterized as absurd any statement that the Japanese government will supply the Mexicans with arms and ammunition. "The Japanese nation," the foreign minister declared, "sincerely hopes that any armed conflict between the United States and Mexico may be avoided. The interests of Japan in North, South and Central America are essentially pacific and commercial."

Baron Ishii said that any event, such as war with Mexico, which would result in disturbances in America, would affect adversely Japan's interests. He pointed out that since the European market for Japan's products has been closed and the Chinese market is unsettled, the American market is regarded as practically the only one for Japanese goods.

COAL HAULING RATES ARE CUT

Ohio Public Utilities Commission Takes Action.

Columbus, June 24.—Coal freight rates of the Hocking Valley railroad and the Toledo and Ohio Central railroad were given reductions varying from 2 to 25 cents, by order of the state public utilities commission, in the Hocking Valley and Sunday Creek case, instituted a year ago by District No. 6, United Mine Workers of America, and prosecuted subsequently by the Sunday Creek Coal company. A lengthy opinion, setting forth the reasons for the reductions, accompanied the order. Ohio coal industry will be greatly benefited, it is said, if the commission is sustained by the supreme court.

The reductions ordered are as follows:

Hocking Valley Railroad—Rates from Nelsonville to points between Lovell and Fostoria, inclusive, cut from 80 to 78 cents, and from Nelsonville to points between Longley and Toledo, inclusive, cut from 85 to 80 cents.

Toledo and Ohio Central Railroad—Rates from Corning to points between West Columbus and Marysville, inclusive, cut from 75 to 70 cents; from Corning to points between Peoria to West Mansfield, inclusive, cut from 85 to 75 cents; from Corning to points between Horton and Hobart, cut from $1 as follows: Horton to Mentor, to 75 cents; Kenton to Beagle, 80 cents; Findlay to Portage, 85 cents, and Bowling Green to Hobart, 90 cents. From Corning to points between East Liberty and St. Marys, cut from $1 as follows: East Liberty to Zanesfield, to 80 cents; Bellefontaine to Russells Point, 85 cents; Lake View to St. Marys, 90 cents. From Corning to points between Rich Hill and Martel, cut from 85 to 80 cents, and to points between New Winchester and Toledo, cut from $1 as follows: New Winchester to Fostoria, to 85 cents, and from Hatton to Toledo, 90 cents.

It is expected the case will be taken by the railroads to the supreme court.

GETTING OUT

(By American Press)

Washington, June 24.—American refugees, fearing for their safety, are crowding aboard American warships off the Mexican coasts, according to reports received at the navy department.

Transports capable of accommodating 1,000 each are being dispatched to relay the Americans from the naval vessels to the nearest ports. Meanwhile Rear Admiral Winslow, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, is hurrying to Mazatlan with his flagship, the San Diego, to support Commander Kavanaugh, who had difficulty there in obtaining permission for Americans to leave the town. It is understood that Commander Althouse, commanding the cruiser Cleveland, has already gone to Commander Kavanaugh's assistance.

REPORTS PLEASING TO HOUGH

All Units of Ohio Militia Up to Peace Strength.

NOW READY TO MOBILIZE

Bulk of National Guard Will Not Reach Columbus Before Tuesday or Wednesday — Mobilization Camp Ready For Only Part of the Troops. Soldiers to Be Vaccinated On Arrival at the Camp.

Columbus, June 24.—Reports from all over the state to Adjutant General Hough show that all organizations in every branch of the service in the Ohio national guard are at least up to peace strength and are now ready to mobilize. Recruiting throughout Ohio during the day developed the hottest pace of the week. The mobilization camp here will be ready for only part of the troops Monday, so that the bulk of the soldiers will not arrive before Tuesday or Wednesday at best.

Colonel Joseph A. Hall, chief surgeon of the Ohio troops, received from Acting Surgeon General Fisher of the United States army the Ohio consignment of typhoid prophylaxis serum and smallpox vaccine. All troops will be vaccinated against these diseases immediately upon arrival at the mobilization camp. The acting surgeon general was stationed at the Columbus barracks a few years ago.

Word was received that 100 horses were on the way to Ohio from Kansas, and that several trainloads would follow.

Events preparatory to the mobilization moved more rapidly than any day since the issuance of President Wilson's orders. The machinery was operated more smoothly, twice the former number of men were at work at the camp, recruiting officers strained efforts and bigger and better results were attained than on any previous day.

Major A. W. Reynolds of the commissary department awarded contracts for 50,000 rations, the provisions to be delivered at the camp as soon as troops arrive, and made out a list for 100,000 more rations.

The frame buildings completed are a telephone house, the postoffice and three storehouses. There will be ten storehouses in all. Each regiment will have 15 houses for sanitary purposes, 15 kitchens and mess shelters and 19 bathhouses.

ONLY 7 MEN HAVE RETURNED

American Force Practically Wiped Out at Carrizal.

El Paso, Tex., June 24.—Reports received here in military circles say that the American force which was led into a trap by the Carranza soldiers at Carrizal on Wednesday was practically wiped out.

This information is gained by General Pershing from the stragglers who have returned to his headquarters. It is believed two troops of American cavalry were in the American command, though some officers incline to the belief that not more than one troop was engaged.

The Americans were completely surrounded by Carranza troops during their parley with the Carranza commander, it is reported by those who have returned to the Pershing camp. All the stragglers that have arrived thus far were men who were holding the horses after the cavalrymen had dismounted and gone forward.

Captain Boyd had ordered his men to dismount as the machine gun opened fire and the combined effect of the Mexican charge, the machine gun fire and the rifle fire from the Mexican garrison at Carrizal, which had almost surrounded the little American force under cover of the parley sought by General Gomez to discuss whether Captain Boyd should be allowed to pass through the town, stampeded the horses.

General Funston received orders to organize several new regiments for immediate service in the regular army and begin the work at once. Trained and seasoned regulars will be taken from the present organizations to form a nucleus for the new regiments, and promotions of several hundred

Henry T. Mayo

Commander of Battleship Fleet May Go to Mexican Waters.

Officers, together with the entire 1916 class of graduates of West Point, will be used to command the new regiments which will be recruited at once to peace strength, even at the cost of reducing many companies of the present army. When this is done all companies and corps in the army will be recruited to full war strength.

ASLEEP BEFORE MARRIAGE.

Secured a License and Was Then Locked in Office.

Lawrenceburg, Ind. — Edward L. Kuhn, aged forty-five, owner of a general merchandise store in Clay township, and Mrs. Anna Moore Davis, aged forty-five, a dressmaker of the same neighborhood, were married at the parsonage of the First Baptist church by the Rev. Omer W. Bowman, the pastor, but not at the time they planned.

Mr. Kuhn came to this city in an automobile, and the bride to be came on a late train. While waiting for Mrs. Davis Mr. Kuhn obtained a marriage license; then he sat down in the private office of the circuit court clerk and went to sleep. When the day's work was done James G. McKinney, the clerk, and his deputies, not noticing Mr. Kuhn, locked the office and went home. Mr. Kuhn awakened several hours later and found he was in the dark, locked in the office. He shouted for help several times and finally attracted the attention of Daniel E. McKennie, the sheriff, who released him. Mr. Kuhn found Mrs. Davis, who was searching the city for him, and they were married.

SAVED CHICKS' LIVES.

Telegrapher Made a Feather Duster Substitute For a Hen.

Defiance, O.—Using a feather duster as a brooder to substitute for a cannibal hen, "Shorty" Eberle saved the lives of some of his chicks.

When Eberle is not busy as manager of the Postal Telegraph company he devotes his time to raising fancy chickens. When one of his hens was not busy scratching she gave her time to digesting some of the brood she had recently hatched.

Eberle noticed the chicks began to disappear. One by one they went until he discovered the hen's appetite was stronger than her mother love. A heavy ration of ground bone and hamburger steak didn't appease her. She ate another.

Then, with a cunning he didn't suspect himself, he threw the hen out, bought a big feather duster and suspended it in the coop. The chicks snuggled among the feathers and are perfectly content with their inanimate mother.

Plain Enough.

HUMOR AS A WORLD FORCE.

Contrasting the Men Who Create With the Men Who Destroy.

Sir Herbert Tree in a lecture at the Birmingham and Midland Institute said:

"Humor may be a help or a clog in life. Many great men have been without it. I think it may be broadly stated that men of action, the great destroyers, the men who take, are as a rule devoid of humor, while men of imagination and contemplation, those who create, who give, have the gift of humor. Among those pre-eminently gifted with humor were Abraham Lincoln, Disraeli, Goethe and Heine, the late Lord Salisbury, Arthur Balfour, Dickens, Thackeray, Fielding, Shakespeare, Queen Elizabeth, Henry VIII., Charles II., Dr. Johnson, Charles Lamb, Emerson and Byron.

"I could enlarge upon this theme until your eyelids would no longer wag. But I will content myself with contrasting as typical examples of the yea and nay of humor two of the world's greatest men—Shakespeare and Napoleon, the arch creator and the arch destroyer.

"Shakespeare gave an abiding joy, one that will contribute to the happiness, the education and the ennobling of mankind throughout the ages, 'in states unborn and accents yet unknown.' Napoleon, on the other hand, took from mankind millions of lives and set humanity wailing."—London Telegraph.

A Queer Diagnosis.

A celebrated Dublin physician was Sir Dominic Corrigan, who was as much famed for his brusqueness toward patients as for his skill. In the course of some reminiscences William Charles Scully told a story of the doctor which is quite well worth quoting. "I was taken to see him," says the writer, "several times, but he always treated me with the utmost kindness. However, a highly respectable maiden aunt of mine had a different experience. She went to consult him. After sounding her—none too gently—and asking a few questions he gave a grunt and relapsed into silence. Then after a short pause of meditation he said, 'Well, ma'am, it's one of two things—either you drink or else you sit with your back to the fire.'"

DIVISION OF NUMBERS.

Rules That Will Simplify Some Examples in Arithmetic.

It is often convenient to know whether a given number is divisible by another without going through the usual process of division. Almost every one knows that however large a number may be, it is divisible by 5 if the last digit is 5 or 0. The following gives the rule for some other numbers:

A number is divisible by 2 when the last digit is divisible by 2; by 3 when the sum of the digits is divisible by 3; by 4 when the number represented by the last two digits is divisible by 4; by 5 when the number ends in 5 or 0; by 6 when it is divisible by 2 and also by 3; by 8 when the number represented by the last three digits is divisible by 8; by 9 when the sum of the digits is divisible by 9.

For example, the number 1728 is divisible by 2, because its last digit, 8, is divisible by 2; by 4, because 28 is divisible by 4, and by 8 because 728 is divisible by 8. It is also divisible by 3 and by 9 for the sum of its digits total 18, a number divisible by 3 and by 9. Since it is divisible by 2 and by 3, it is also divisible by 6.

To find whether a number is divisible by 7 you must go through the usual process of division.—Youth's Companion.

CHRISTIANS ARE NO MATCH FOR METHODISTS

The Methodists who have fallen down somewhat from their brisk sport of good playing in the last few games, returned to their old form Friday evening by defeating the Christians who had the strongest lineup they have had all season.

Dawson pitched another faultless game fanning ten of the opposing team. He received unusually good support, Wood doing justice to his position of catcher.

The hitting of the Methodists was the best that they have done this year. Hays, Leach and Garrison all got two-base hits and every man on the team got at least one hit during the game.

Trimmer and Brown formed the battery for the Christians, but they worked in vain against the heavy hitting Methodists.

The score:
Methodists 2 3 4 3—12
Christians 0 0 0 0—0

Lineups—Methodists: Woods c; Harrison ss; Dawson p; W. Wilson rf; Hays 2b; R. Wilson 3b; Bowman lf; Nevins if; Leach 1b.
Christians: Brown c; Johnson 3b; O. Flint rf; Flint ss; C. Trimmer 3b; West lf; Lowee cf; Trimmer p; Cubbage 1b.

ROOKIES FORCED TO RUN GAUNTLET

The initiation of the "rookies" or new recruits, added to Company M took place on the court house lawn Saturday afternoon and was the cause of a great deal of merriment among onlookers while the boys themselves entered into the sport with a zest that the men who ran the gauntlet will remember for several days.

The troops lined up with some 15 on either side, leaving a space of eight feet or less through which the new men were chased and as they passed through, the men, with belts unslung, proceeded to wield the belt with all the force they could command.

A large crowd watched the sport for sometime.

26 AMERICAN TROOPERS DIE AT CARRIZAL

Columbus, N. M., Report Says All of Troops Are Accounted for at Army Base Save Forty.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, N. M., June 24. — All the American forces which engaged the Mexicans at Carrizal have returned to the field base excepting Captains Boyd and Morey, Lieutenant Adair and forty troopers, according to a report today by arrivals from the interior.

Mexican reports that 12 Americans were found dead on the scene of the engagement would indicate that fourteen troopers either died from their wounds, were killed in later fighting or have not succeeded in reaching their base. Three officers are believed to be dead.

According to this report, the total of American dead in the battle probably was 26, unless some of the troops are still wandering in search of the expeditionary force.

No orders for the movement of Ohio troops had been issued late today.

The First Regiment, Ohio National Guards, with headquarters in Cincinnati, and the Seventh Regiment, with headquarters at Marietta, may be called out for Mexican border service within a few days, according to unofficial word received by General Hough today from former Adjutant General Critchfield, at Washington.

These regiments were not included in the first call for Ohio troops because they were not a part of the two Ohio brigade formations. Major Robert W. Mearns, of the United States Regular Army, arrived here today, under detail from the commander of the central division, to act as chief mustering in officer to conduct the mustering of the Ohio National Guard into federal service.

There have been no arrangements for removing them to Juarez to be surrendered to American authorities.

Lem Spillsbury, a Mormon scout, captured at Carrizal, also is in prison. The prisoners were assaulted by Mexican civilians as they were being transferred from the train to the penitentiary.

According to the authorities, they are being well treated. It was officially announced that none of the prisoners brought here will be hanged, "that not being the custom of a civilized country," according to the statement.

HAY MEASURE IS REFORMED

Relief Provision of $1,000,000 for Dependents Stricken Out.

Draft Into Regular Service Also Modified.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 24. — Stripped of its $1,000,000 relief provision for families of militiamen, the Senate Military Committee today ordered a favorable report on the Hay resolution, adopted by the House yesterday, authorizing the drafting of the National Guard into the service of the United States.

A substitute for the relief provision directs that militiamen having dependent families should be discharged at once.

The Senate also eliminated the provision that the militiamen to be drafted into the regular service should serve not exceeding three years, thus providing that they shall remain in service for the period of emergency.

Cavalry Troops Were Practically Annihilated at Carrizal By Treacherous Mexicans.

Only Seven Survivors Have Been Able to Struggle Back to Base.

Only Disavowal By Defacto Government Can Avert Break.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 24. — Relations between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico are close to the breaking point today, as a result of the apparent well founded belief that two troops of American cavalry were deliberately massacred Wednesday at Carrizal by Carranza soldiers.

Secretaries Lansing and Baker were at the White House today conferring with President Wilson.

It is known that the possibility of drastic retaliatory action against the Mexican forces in Chihuahua was given consideration.

If the Carranza Government accepts responsibility for the attack at Carrizal, it is considered virtually certain by officials that occupation of most of the northern Mexico will be ordered by President Wilson to take place as rapidly as the necessary military forces can be placed at the disposal of General Funston.

Action must await further reports from General Pershing.

His message last night indicating that only seven men of the two troops of cavalry had survived, in addition to those taken prisoners, had not been supplemented at an early hour.

It is believed the first act of the Washington Government, when fuller information is at hand, will be to demand repudiation by the Carranza Government.

Preliminary reports have convinced officials here that the American troops were deliberately led into a trap.

The only question remaining to be settled, it is indicated, is whether the Carranza Government ordered the attack or it was the work of a subordinate officer.

In the latter event, unqualified repudiation of his act and the immediate surrender of prisoners will probably be demanded.

NEW MONSTER OF THE SKIES

(Associated Press Cable)

Berne, Switzerland, June 24.—People living along the Swiss border of the lake of Constance have been greatly surprised over the movements of the new monster-airship, much larger than all other Zeppelins, that has been making trial trips over the lake. The length of this ship is said to be 240 yards, or almost double that of other Zeppelins. The cubic contents is even more than double, 54,000 cubic meters instead of 20,000, and the number of the gondolas is four instead of two. These gondolas are said to be armed with guns, machine guns, and a new kind of air torpedo.

Despite its huge bulk the ship gives the impression of fish-like slenderness. The steering gear form an exact cross. The motors are 3,000-4,000 horse power, able to give the airship a speed of 90 kilometers an hour. To avoid breakdowns, the motors are in double number. The crew is said to be 30 to 40 men. The ship can reach a height of three to four miles.

TROOPS ENGAGE IN TRUCK FARMING

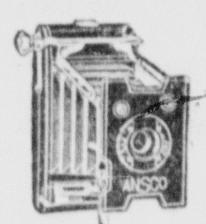

(By Associated Press Cable)

Paris, June 24.—The proposition of M. Meline, Minister of Agriculture, to effect cultivation of abandoned land by the civilians population has been extended to the army. Wherever there is uncultivated land in the proximity of garrisons or camps of troops, the auxiliaries and territorialists not continually on other service are detailed for several hours work each day in market gardening. The property either to be sold for combined profit of the soldiers working the land and the owners or consumed by the troops. Civilians will not be allowed to draw any profit whatever from this exploitation.

Among the civilians groups will be organized similar to the workingmen's gardening societies that existed before the war, to work all lands abandoned by their proprietors in the neighborhood of towns. These will be co-operative and the produce as well as the expense divided equally among the participants.

The line will be single track, with five tunnels from 140 feet to 775 feet in length.

ALL IS READY FOR THE WORD

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., June 24.—American troops are preparing to occupy Juarez, Agua Prieta, Matamoros and other evacuated ports along the Mexican side of the border. It is learned on absolute authority that instructions have been given to George Bell, Jr., commander of the American border patrol at his point, to be in readiness to cross at a moment's notice. Other commanders have similar instructions.

The entire command of General Bell, now in El Paso, was brought into the city from Fort Bliss and paraded through the streets. The movement caused great excitement and led to a general scare in the belief that Juarez was to be occupied at once.

Fighting was expected, as General Gonzales and 100 men still remained in Juarez, following the evacuation of the city by the major portion of the garrison and practically all the civilian population. General Bell made the positive statement, however, that the troop movement was only intended as an object lesson to the Mexicans at El Paso and Juarez.

Principal fear of inhabitants along the border now is the Mexicans on this side of the line, since the Mexican troops are evacuating their own border towns. Residents in the valley above El Paso, in New Mexico, report that they feel it necessary to make plans for ample protection to themselves and their property. The Mexican population there is increasing rapidly.

"IN AGAIN"

(By American Press)

Dayton, O., June 24.—Attorney General Turner announced he will prosecute to the limit any Ohio national guardsman who tries to dodge service by "fraud or trivial excuses." Turner's assistants returns from Xenia, where they fought habeas corpus proceedings started there in common pleas court by William Donovan, a private in company I, Third infantry, who made affidavit he was intoxicated when he enlisted, according to Turner. Common Pleas Judge Kyle, at Xenia, denied the writ when it was shown Donovan had drilled with the company the day after enlistment.

NEW OVERLAND IS A "PEACH"

Like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky has come the announcement of a new model by The Willys-Overland Company, of Toledo, Ohio, which is destined, in the opinion of those who have already seen it, to cause a greater stir in automobile circles than any of the many sensational developments in motor car building which have occurred during recent years. The most powerful low priced car in the world is the description given of this new product of the great Toledo factory and it is to be known technically as The Willys-Overland Company's New Series Model 75 B. In spite of the nationwide lamentations concerning the increasing cost of materials, labor and manufacturing equipment, this latest motor vehicle is to be sold at $635 for the touring car and $620 for the roadster—price which are said to be equally as sensational as the performance of the car itself.

The New Series Model 75 B Overland naturally bases its claims to being the most powerful low priced car in the world on its motor and on the exhaustive tests, which its builders insist have shown conclusively its superiority over anything of its kind ever manufactured heretofore. With a larger bore now 3 3/4 inches and a 5 inch stroke, it develops 31 1/2 horsepower at 1550 revolutions per minute. This performance, at this low speed, in the opinions of those expert in automobile building, promises the greatest possible power from the motor, with the smallest amount of wear on the motor itself. Like a flash, this amazing motor will take the car 2 1/2 miles an hour to 53 miles an hour, on high, with all the ease of action so widely advertised in the big, powerful machines selling at five and six times its list price.

The low price of the new car naturally implies economy, but the Willys-Overland officials show that, unlike many other instances of low priced cars, the economy does not end with the purchase price. And here again, the efficiency of that wonder-motor, as the Overland officials refer to it, is demonstrated. Tests have repeatedly proven that this sensational car will accomplish 25 miles on one gallon of gasoline and 18 to 20 miles per gallon is common performance in average all-round use.

A two unit, six-volt electric starting and lighting system, with head, tail and dash lamps and head light dimmers; ammeter to register the electric current; one-man mohair top and top boot; curtains fastened from the inside; built-in, rain-vision ventilating type windshield; magnetic speedometer; revolving oil indicator; gasoline gauge; electric horn; combination tail light and license bracket; hinged robe rail; foot rest; tire carriers in rear; extra demountable rim; full set of tools, tire repair kit, jack and pump.

The drive, of course, is left hand with a center control to facilitate driving, while the electric control buttons on the steering column enable the driver—man, woman or child—to control the horn, light and ignition without stooping from the natural position at the wheel.

The motor is cooled by the most advanced thermo-siphon system, no pump being required. The radiator is of the noted Overland cellular type with vertical circulation and the whole shell is pressed from a single sheet on steel. A Tillson carburetor is used and this make of carburetor needs no introduction to anyone acquainted with the best in motor cars. One of its greatest points of desirability is its extremely simple adjustment. An improved ignition system also adds to the efficiency of the new model. It provides a sure, hot spark at even the lowest speeds.

Poetry For Today

JUNE ROSES.

June, soft summer's mistress,
Bids adieu to spring;
Then she gives her roses
Liberty to fling.

All their hidden sweetness
To the hungry air,
Which is ever sighing
For new charms. Oh, bear.

Perfume from the roses,
Breezes, in your flight!
Tell the hastening summer
Of the earth's delight.

In her blossoming gardens,
In her lengthening days,
In her shimmering waters,
In her song-bird's lays.

Creep into the forest,
Wind, with slower tread;
Whisper to the silence
That when roses wed.

Earth gives forth her fairest;
Then, in silvery voice,
Toast the Royal Rosesses,
June's unvarying choice!

The Specter of Pauperism.

Do you know that in the United States sixty-six out of every hundred people that die leave no estate whatever? Do you know that out of the remaining thirty-four only nine leave estates larger than $5,000 and that the average of the balance of twenty-five is a little less than $1,300? Do you know that at the age of sixty-five ninety-seven out of every hundred in America are partly or wholly dependent upon relatives, friends or the public for their daily bread, for their clothing and a roof under which to sleep? We all know that the one safeguard against pauperism by the countries of Europe has been thrift. France, Germany, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland have been the leaders in thrift. Do you realize that according to government statistics 98 per cent of the American people are living from day to day on their wages and that a loss of employment would mean pauperism for all but 2 per cent of us?—S. W. Straus in Leslie's.

THE EMERALD ISLE

In Area It Is a Little Smaller Than Our State of Maine.

ITS SLUMP IN POPULATION.

One of the Few Sections of the Civilized World That Have Decreased in Numbers in the Past Century—Its Beautiful Lakes and Rivers.

The historical and political importance of Ireland has created in the minds of many Americans an exaggerated idea of the island's physical proportions and the density of its population.

The whole of Ireland embraces an area slightly less than the state of Maine, but with a population six times as dense. In comparison with the governing country it is three-fifths as large as England and Wales, with one-ninth the population. The island is one of the very few sections of the civilized world where the population has shown a marked decrease during the last century.

The first census of the island, taken in 1821, recorded a population almost 50 per cent larger than at the present time, while the census of 1841 showed the high water mark of more than 8,000,000, nearly twice the present population. This remarkable decrease, due largely to emigration, began after the famine brought about by the destructive disease which attacked the potato crop of 1845. This calamity resulted in the withdrawal of more than a million acres from cultivation within two years.

Incidentally the potato, which has played such an important role in the life of Ireland during the last 300 years, is not indigenous to the island, but was one of the food gold mines discovered by the Spaniards in their conquest of Peru. The country is indebted to Sir Walter Raleigh for her "Irish" potatoes, as it was he who brought them from what is now North Carolina and planted them on his estate near Cork in 1583.

Ireland lies on the western rim of what was once a part of continental Europe. It has numerous mountains, the highest being the McGillicuddy reeks (3,414 feet) in the Killarney region, but there is no mountain chain or elevated "backbone." There is a more or less well defined plain, however, the distinguishing feature of which is its bogs—the black bog producing the famous peat fuel, differentiated from the brown bogs of the mountains. If the whole island were brought to a mean level it would rise 400 feet above the sea.

The lakes, or loughs, of Ireland are among its most widely appreciated physical characteristics, their scenic beauty being the inspiration of poets, painters and musicians. Nor have the Irish rivers been overlooked in appraisals of the island's beauties. The Shannon, which flows for 250 miles, is the longest water course in the United Kingdom. It is navigated by large steamers for half its length and is connected with Dublin by means of the Grand and the Royal canals.

Although coal is found in most of the thirty-two counties into which the island is divided and there is considerable iron ore, mining is not an important industry. Gold was being mined in a modest way in County Wicklow at the time of the rebellion of 1798, but the works were destroyed and the source of the metal has never been rediscovered.

Agriculture and stock raising are the chief occupations of the inhabitants. At one time the woolen manufactures of the island were formidable rivals of English factories, but hostile legislation gave the industry a check from which it has never recovered. As the Irish have raised flax for centuries, the manufacture of linen early became one of the important industries of the country. Irish whisky is an important article of export, and one of the largest breweries in the world is located at Dublin.

Shipbuilding in the great yards at Belfast is one of the most widely known Irish activities, and the deep sea and coast fisheries afford a livelihood for many thousands.

Thanks to the temperate influence of the warm winds from the Atlantic, the thermometer rarely reaches freezing.

CLOTHES AND THE MAN.

How to Be Well Dressed and Not Look Like a Cloudy Winter Day.

In the American Magazine is an account of one of the most successful insurance solicitors in the country, who attributes a large part of his success to the fact that he always looks well dressed and prosperous.

"If you have only one suit of clothes, keep that one suit clean and pressed all the time," he says. "Press your trousers yourself every day if necessary. I have pressed my trousers lots of times. Keep your shoes shined."

"If you can afford several suits, change off from one suit to another frequently and keep all of them spotless and well pressed. I never wear a suit longer than the second day at a time. To change every day is better. It gives the clothes a chance to 'rest.' I always hang my clothes on hangers, the minute I take them off. It gives them a chance to 'come back' into shape and the nap to come up again."

"It is a great economy to have lots of good clothes. A suit will last twice and three times as long and always look well if you keep changing off from one to another. Besides, people get tired of seeing a man in the same suit day after day for a whole season."

"When I started in the insurance business years ago I realized that to make a good appearance was to look prosperous, and I paid much attention to my dress. I avoided solid colors and always selected clothes with some life in them. A dash of color about your person, whether it be in the plaid of the suit, the shirt, tie, hat or handkerchief protruding from the coat pocket, will take away the monotony of one's appearance and is sure to please. But, in adding this 'life' and 'pep' to one's appearance, avoid, above all things, the colors that clash. Get clothes with 'snap' and 'life,' avoid those which make the wearer look like a cloudy winter day."

Ring Life Preservers.

"The worst trouble about a life preserver," said an old sailor, "is that few people know what to do with one when it's thrown to them. Many a man would drown in trying to get a life preserver over his head. The average person struggling about in the water would try to lift up the big life ring and put it over his head. That only causes the man to sink deeper and take more water into his lungs."

"The proper way to approach a life preserver in the water is to take hold of the side nearest you and press upon it with all your weight. That causes the other side to fly up in the air and down over your head, 'ringing' you as neatly as a man ringing a cane at a country fair. After that the drowning man can be rescued."

WON THE AUDIENCE.

Bernhardt's Clever Trick Turned Coldness to Enthusiasm.

Once when Sarah Bernhardt was acting in Italy the audience was rather unfriendly, owing to the fact that the prices of the seats had been considerably increased.

After the first act Mme. Bernhardt called her maid and gave her some directions in an undertone. The maid left the theater, but speedily returned, and just before her mistress went on the stage again she handed her something as she stood in the wings. The scene progressed. "The Divine Sarah" seemed hoarse. She tried to clear her throat, passed her handkerchief across her mouth, and suddenly a stream of blood poured from her lips, and she fell into the arms of the actor with whom she was playing.

The curtain was promptly rung down, and the audience waited breathlessly to hear the worst. All their previous vexation was turned to sympathy, and when it was announced that the great actress would shortly resume her part rather than disappoint them the cheering was deafening. When Madame came on again the people applauded her as loudly as formerly they had shown their disapproval, and the rest of the play was one long triumph.

But that audience never knew the truth, for when Madame had sent her maid out of the theater it was to get her a small bladder of red ink, which she kept in her handkerchief and which she bit through with her teeth so as to produce the alarming effect that had transformed her audience.

Discovered at Last

A great many citizens have been certain that the unusual weather conditions prevailing this season and last should be attributed to the war in Europe. There are some contrary folks who have always been a little skeptical about that and have insisted that while men might shoot each other and create havoc among man's creations, they were not big enough yet, even in their anger, to disturb weather conditions on the other side of the world.

Naturally, with such a difference of opinion prevailing, there has been some considerable argument over a subject about which an argument can always be started.

Fortunately for all concerned, the cause of all the unusual conditions has been discovered. A local citizen, more observant than most mortals, noticed Friday morning that the moon sailing white and cold, high up in the western sky, was flat on its face—upside down.

"Knowing" as we all do that the moon exerts a powerful influence on weather conditions, just as soon as it was discovered that the moon was upside down, a similar condition in the weather was accounted for by everyone.

Now that we have found the cause of conditions the only thing that would make us feel better would be for the moon to turn over on its back and the weather conditions to become normal.

War Seems Imminent

That war with Mexico is imminent is apparent to even the most casual observer, and to those who study carefully every move made in the great crisis, those who hope for a peaceful solution, even in spite of the overt act of Wednesday, there is not much of encouragement.

That President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker are unable to see much brightness behind the ominous cloud of war which hovers over the southern boundary is evident from the fact that at General Funston's request, the national guardsmen will be rushed at once to the border for service just as soon as a regiment is recruited to its full number without waiting for mobilization and movement of the entire state troops.

Congress has passed the Hay army bill authorizing the president to draft national Guardsmen into the federal service declaring that an emergency exists at this time.

The necessary legislation providing for the care of dependents of soldiers who enter the federal service has been enacted. There is an entire absence of delay and unless argument. The nation, in all the departments of government, executive and legislative, has set determinedly about the task which confronts us.

President Wilson, who has labored so earnestly to keep the nation out of war has the sympathy and the support of the entire people. Those who criticized him so severely see now more clearly the difficulties which confronted him and are willing to concede frankly, in view of the, now apparent, lack of intelligence of the Mexican masses and lack of honor among the leaders, that the marvel is that we have been able so long to avoid an armed conflict.

Not a few people are realizing for the first time the seriousness and the cost of the task ahead of us.

No nation was ever guilty of more unjustifiable action, no nation has ever had to deal with a more patient, peace loving executive than President Wilson has proven himself and is a cruel turn of fortune that his every effort for peace and for the good of the Mexican people has been tortured into an act of hostility by unscrupulous Mexican leaders.

Poisoning the Dogs

A short time ago, some creature who walked and talked like a human being, occupied his time, or a considerable portion of it at least, in scattering broadcast over the city, poison for dogs.

There is something radically wrong with a human being who will poison dogs. There are times when it becomes necessary to take the life of a dog—to end its suffering when no relief can be furnished, to prevent the spread of disease or to protect human life, but there are humane methods by which that can be done and regularly constituted authorities whose duty it is to do that work.

But the creature who scatters poison indiscriminately throughout the community exhibits a disregard for the plans of the Creator, a lack of human impulses and affections which stamps him as dangerous.

The death of the four-footed member of the family is sometimes one of the deepest sorrows of childhood and anyone who would be guilty of the criminal negligence which the indiscriminate scattering of poisoned food for dogs entails—well, about the "no accountest" dog that lives seems to have an equal standing, by comparison.

Fortunately the reign of terror under the dog poisoner seems to have come to an end.

No longer are men, women and children, possessing the better impulses, disturbed for hours by the sight of a fine dog lying prone in the streets suffering in dumb agony from the effects of a poison.

Everyone hopes the poisoner has quit for all time, his murderous work.

AGGREGATE STRENGTH OF COMPANY M NOW 88 MEN

Recruiting Increases and Local Troops Are Ready to Respond to Summons to the Border—Company Will Attend Church Services at M. E. Church in Morning and Presbyterian in Evening.

Company M now has an aggregate of 88 men, with prospects of still further increasing this number within the next 24 hours, the recruiting showing better results during the past 24 hours than at any previous time.

Private Strange of Greenfield still holds the record for recruits, obtaining two additional men at Mt. Sterling Saturday morning, and bringing his total number of recruits up to eleven. The boys pronounce Strange "some recruiter."

At the present time there is insufficient equipment for a few of the men enrolled and the new equipment must come from the War Department direct.

Of the entire enlistment, three men of Company M have not been located, and all efforts are being made to do so. Unless they respond in the very near future it is expected that the trio will be dealt with severely, as there is very little possibility that they are wanted. Furthermore they have disobeyed the rules by failing to file their address with the commander.

The three men are Kirby McCarty, Estel Stookey and Wm. Evans, and Captain O. E. Hardway will be greatly pleased for any information, which may lead to locating the strays.

The company was given another long hike, part of it across country, Saturday morning, and later enjoyed a plunge at the Y. M. C. A.

Sunday morning the company will march in a body to Grace church for morning worship.

Sunday evening the Company will attend services at the Presbyterian church.

The Men's Bible Class of Grace church will be taught by Second Lieutenant Wm. W. Curtiss, who is teacher of the Brotherhood class of men in the Presbyterian church of Greenfield. Lieutenant Curtiss was permitted to spend a few hours at his home in Greenfield Saturday.

The Washington boys are proud of the Greenfield boys, who are all splendid chaps, and the new Second Lieutenant holds the highest esteem of every officer and man in the company.

Capt. O. E. Hardway is proving himself an excellent officer and is handling the Company like a real veteran.

SORROWING FRIENDS PAY LAST SAD TRIBUTE

One of the largest funerals ever held in Grace church was that of Mr. Ralph Allen, held at ten o'clock Saturday morning.

The terrible shock of Mr. Allen's sudden death had aroused the entire community to deep sympathy. The personal friends of the deceased and they were many for Ralph Allen made friends wherever he went; the lodge brethren of the I. O. O. F., representing in large numbers the different branches of the order, and the widely extended members of a large family connection, all gathered in a common sorrow and heart-breaking regret over an untimely death.

The Staunton neighborhood, Mr. Allen's home and where he will be greatly missed, was specially represented.

There were few dry eyes in the church as the casket, almost buried beneath a wealth of flowers, was borne to the chance to rest amid a bank of flowers during the hour of service.

The I. O. O. F. and D. of K. occupied seats reserved in the center of the auditorium.

The services were conducted with great impressiveness by Rev. T. M. Ricketts, of Carroll, former Staunton pastor, assisted by Rev. Ludlow, of Staunton, and Rev. Long, of Frankfort, Rev. J. Vernon Stone and Rev. Wm. B. Gage, of this city.

Rev. Ricketts read the memoir and followed it with a fine address. He dwelt specially upon the sterling character of the deceased, a "son of the church," born and raised within its influence, of his big hearted sympathy and refusal to cherish resentment. The minister referred with deep feeling to Mr. Allen's devotion to his home and offered much of comfort to the wife and son, the parents, brothers and sisters.

Favorite hymns of Mr. Allen's, "Abide With Me," "Sometime We'll Understand," and "Rock of Ages," were beautifully sung by Misses Madonna and Louise Larimer, Messrs J. H. Hicks and H. C. Ireland.

The I. O. O. F. conducted its ritualistic service before leaving the church. Mr. Allen had been one of the foremost officers in the lodge.

A long funeral cortege formed for the burial in the Washington cemetery.

At the grave both the I. O. O. F. and the D. of K. held their beautiful ritual for the dead and deposited the emblems on the casket.

The wig-wag, or signal corps of Company M were busy about the lawn, practicing with their signals, and a soldier in uniform and carrying a gun was stationed near the recruiting office.

In Social Circles

A brilliant climax to an extraordinary week of gaiety among the younger social set, a long-to-be-remembered example of southern hospitality, and the most elaborate affair of its kind ever given in the city was the formal dinner given by Mr. Asa Patterson at the Cherry Hotel, Friday night, complimenting the house guests of Misses Fullerton and Davis, Miss Charlotte Flindt of Spencer, Iowa, Miss Esther Dahl of Duluth, Minn., Miss Dorothy Land of Richmond, Ind., and Miss Mala Manners of Frenchtown, N. J.

It was a dinner of sixteen covers, the table, gleaming in the mellow light of myriad wax tapers, a florist's masterpiece. Gracing the center rose a superb basket of Madame Russell and Orphelia roses, particularly veiled in greenery and festoons of white mums, while extending from the basket down the length of the table half-opened buds and swansonia were entwined in ropes of smilax, twisted with maline, and artistically interwoven about the bases of crystal candlesticks, holding tall white candles. At each cover were exquisite nosegays for the girls and fragrant boutonnieres for their escorts.

The dinner was perfectly served by the hotel management in five sumptuous courses that included all the luxuries that the season has to offer. Rosebud cups filled with almonds were at each place; the dinner course was garnished with tiny flags and rosettes; and novel and pretty conceits introduced with each course.

At ten o'clock the guests very reluctantly left the dining room and proceeded to the hotel parlor, where all participated in a lively game of five hundred.

The additional guests were: Misses Nina and Mary Dahl, Dorothy Fullerton, Lillian Davis; Messrs. Jess H. Millikan, Virgil Perrill, Edwards Hopkins, Max G. Dice, James McDonald, Emerson Chapman, Kenneth Kerr of Wilmington.

A motoring party which enjoyed a merry picnic supper at Rock Mills Friday evening including Misses Ruth Reid, Gladys Fenner, Kathleen Davis, Dorothy Rogers, Kath-Hays and Lelia Culberson of Mill-edgeville.

Messrs Selsor Fenner, Glen Griffith, Paul Strevey, Robert Craig, Renick Allen, Howard Greeg, Miss Ustick chaperoned.

The women of the Tuesday Kensington Club delightfully entertained their husbands with a picnic supper Thursday evening at Rock Mills. Thirty motored down to this favorite resort and there was great fun building a big bonfire and cooking the supper out of doors. Boating was also a feature of the evening's pleasure.

Mrs. Anna Bush Coffman complimented Mrs. Herbert Gardner and Mrs. Carrol McCrea, of Toledo, and Miss Elan Crump, of Cincinnati, with a charming three table "Bridge" Friday afternoon.

The girls of Miss Cecile Reeder's Sunday school class of Grace M. E. church gave a penny social in the basement of the church Friday evening at seven-thirty.

The attendance of young people was large and a nice sum was netted for the benefit of the class.

There were several booths arranged around the room for fortune telling and dispensing of refreshments.

The younger set, along with the house guests of Misses Lillian Davis and Dorothy Fullerton, are being entertained by a lawn dance at the country home of Mr. Virgil Perrill, this evening.

Mrs. Blessing's many friends in this city will be glad to know that she is making excellent recovery.

Mr. Walter Patton motored to Springfield Saturday morning to visit his parents for a few days.

Mrs. Bert Garringer and daughter of Good Hope, are spending the day with Mrs. L. E. Garringer.

Mr. John Gibson, of Athens, is the guest of his cousin, Dr. C. A. Teeters and family.

Mrs. Frank Post and daughter Marjorie of Lebanon, are visiting Mrs. Post's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Chaffin came down from Columbus Friday evening to attend the funeral of Mr. Ralph Allen. They are the guests of Mrs. Chaffin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Thornton.

Miss Ruth Parrett arrived this morning from a year's study at the Von Ende School of Music, New York, to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Parrett.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rodgers have as their guests Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson and daughter, Mrs. Gilbert Thorp of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Gibson, of Springfield.

Uncle Wallace Creamer, aged 97 years, of Jefferson township, is a business visitor in town today. He was with his sister, Mrs. Kate Worthington, and her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Post, for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen and two children motored through from Riverside, Mich., in response to the sad news of the death of Mr. Allen's brother, Mr. Ralph Allen. The trip was a very hard one of 500 miles. They reached here about 1:30 o'clock Friday night.

Mrs. J. E. Sands arrived Friday from Louisville, Ky., to visit her mother, Mrs. Martha Gallup, and sister, Mrs. E. N. Holloway. Mr. Sands joins her this evening and with his family accompanies Mr. and Mrs. Holloway on the Dahl-Campbell outing. He will be the B. & O. representative of the fourth division. Mrs. Gallup, who has been visiting in Louisville, returned a couple of days ago.

Mr. Estus McVey accompanied his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. McVey, home Friday from Athens, where they attended the Ohio University commencement. Mrs. Herman Snider, a sister, and her husband, of Sabina, also attended the commencement. Saturday Mr. McVey, who has been elected Director of the public schools, returned, taking back with him his little son Emerson, who was born in the Philippines during Mr. McVey's residence there.

GAIN MADE AT VERDUN BY KAISER

Germans Drawing Nearer to the Fortress.

FRENCH LOSE POSITIONS

Russian Advance in Galicia and Volhynia Arrested by the Violent Attacks Delivered by the Teutonic Allies—Slavs, However, Advance Further Into Bukovina—Turks Check Foe in Mesopotamia.

London, June 24.—French positions northeast of the fortress of Verdun have been captured by the Germans. Fighting along a front of more than three miles on the right bank of the Meuse, the German forces, following the usual artillery bombardment and in the face of violent fire from French guns, carried French first line trenches between Hills 321 to 329, and also the Thiaumont fort. At the same time the Germans have held back the advance of the Russian forces from Dvinsk to the Galician border.

Fierce fighting marked the advance toward Verdun, Paris declares in admitting the loss of the trenches and the Thiaumont fort. Further along the line the Germans reached Fleury, about three and one-half miles northeast of Verdun, but Paris says they were repulsed there by a violent counter attack. Paris states the attacks on the woods of Vaux, Chaptre, Fumin and Chenols and on the Dambloup battery were broken and repulsed.

South of the Dambloup battery, in the sector of Monlanville, and on the left bank of the Meuse in the region of Hill 304 and Le Mort Homme, the French positions are being heavily bombarded by the German guns.

The Russians have advanced further into Bukovina in pursuit of General Pflanzer's force, but farther north in East Galicia and Volhynia their progress apparently has been arrested by the violent attacks and counter attacks of the Teutonic allies.

Advances for the German and Austrian forces west and southwest of Lutsk in Volhynia and the repulse of Russian counter attacks on the Stokhod and Styr rivers in the same region and along the Galician frontier in the vicinity of Brody are chronicled in the Berlin and Vienna communications.

In Mesopotamia, Constantinople claims to have checked the Russians' advance toward the Mesopotamia plains and to have driven the Russians out of Patrik Pass, on the Persian front, through which they attempted to enter Mesopotamia.

ANTI-MILITARISTS

(By American Press)

New York, June 24.—A group of anti-militarists, in an endeavor to prevent war with Mexico, have decided that the best way to achieve their end is to arrange a conference at El Paso between three representative Americans and three representative Mexicans. Telegrams were dispatched to William Jennings Bryan, David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Leland Stanford university, and Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City, asking them to uphold the American end of the conference. Prominent Mexican civilians have accepted invitations to attend.

The three Mexicans to whom telegrams were dispatched were Dr. Atl, editor of Mexico City; Luis Manuel Rojas, director of the Biblioteca Nacional, Mexico City, and Modesto C. Rolland, a Mexican engineer.

WILL SEND MILITIA TO BORDER

All Departmental Commanders Receive Instructions.

BAKER ISSUES THE ORDER

Organizations to Go to the Mexican Boundary as Rapidly as They Are Mustered Into the Federal Service. House Bill Authorizes Wilson to Draft the Guardsmen For Foreign Service.

Washington, June 24.—Secretary of War Baker has issued orders directing all departmental commanders of the army to send all national guard organizations under their command to the Mexican border as rapidly as they are mustered into the federal service.

The orders directed the commanders to notify General Funston as each organization, infantry, cavalry, field artillery, signal corps, engineer corps or field company, is mustered in. Funston will direct where each organization is to be sent and his request will be carried out without further instructions from Washington.

The house, by unanimous consent, took up and passed a joint resolution, expressing it as the opinion of congress that an emergency now exists justifying the use of the national guard and authorizing the president to draft the militia into the federal service.

service with power to use the state troops in foreign territory. The house also appropriated $1,000,000 for the support of dependent families of enlisted guardsmen.

Rear Admiral Winslow and other American naval officers on the Mexican coasts will protect foreign as well as American interests during the present crisis, and also in case the situation brings about the outbreak of actual hostilities. Foreign diplomats here have conferred with the state department relative to the safety of their nationals, and assurances have been given that the American naval officers will do all they can to protect them.

The same assurance has been given to Japan. The American warships will, therefore, look after Japanese as well as American interests, a fact which completely discredits the unqualified reports that the Japanese government was not in sympathy with the United States in the present crisis.

The war department ordered fourteen high powered aeroplanes in pursuance of its plan to establish an aerial patrol of the Mexican border. The machines, with all spare parts, will cost approximately $275,000. The fourteen aeroplanes will be dispatched at once to the border.

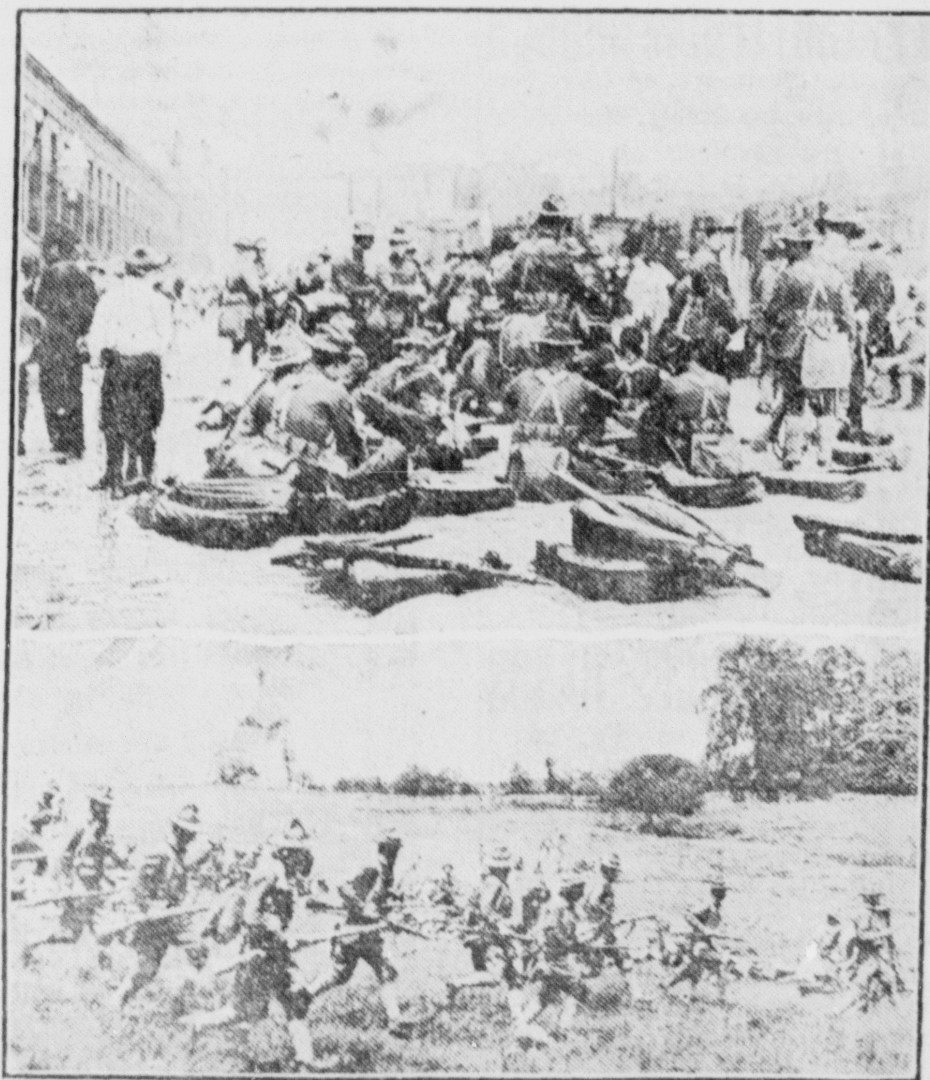

NOTHING DOING

(By American Press)

Tokyo, June 24.—Baron Ishii, Japanese foreign minister, characterized as absurd any statement that the Japanese government will supply the Mexicans with arms and ammunition. "The Japanese nation," the foreign minister declared, "sincerely hopes that any armed conflict between the United States and Mexico may be avoided. The interests of Japan in North, South and Central America are essentially pacific and commercial."

Baron Ishii said that any event, such as war with Mexico, which would result in disturbances in America, would affect adversely Japan's interests. He pointed out that since the European market for Japan's products has been closed and the Chinese market is unsettled, the American market is regarded as practically the only one for Japanese goods.

COAL HAULING RATES ARE CUT

Ohio Public Utilities Commission Takes Action.

Columbus, June 24.—Coal freight rates of the Hocking Valley railroad and the Toledo and Ohio Central railroad were given reductions varying from 2 to 25 cents, by order of the state public utilities commission, in the Hocking Valley and Sunday Creek case, instituted a year ago by District No. 6, United Mine Workers of America, and prosecuted subsequently by the Sunday Creek Coal company. A lengthy opinion, setting forth the reasons for the reductions, accompanied the order. Ohio coal industry will be greatly benefited, it is said, if the commission is sustained by the supreme court.

The reductions ordered are as follows:

Hocking Valley Railroad—Rates from Nelsonville to points between Lovell and Postoria, inclusive, cut from 80 to 78 cents, and from Nelsonville to points between Longley and Toledo, inclusive, cut from 85 to 80 cents.

Toledo and Ohio Central Railroad—Rates from Corning to points between West Columbus and Marysville, inclusive, cut from 75 to 70 cents; from Corning to points between Peoria to West Mansfield, inclusive, cut from 85 to 75 cents; from Corning to points between Horton and Hobart, cut from $1 as follows: Horton to Mentor, to 75 cents; Kenton to Beagle, 80 cents; Findlay to Portage, 85 cents, and Bowling Green to Hobart, 90 cents. From Corning to points between East Liberty and St. Marys, cut from $1 as follows: East Liberty to Zanesfield, to 80 cents; Bellefontaine to Russells Point, 85 cents; Lake View to St. Marys, 90 cents. From Corning to points between Rich Hill and Martel, cut from 85 to 80 cents, and to points between New Winchester and Toledo, cut from $1 as follows: New Winchester to Postoria, to 85 cents, and from Hatton to Toledo, 90 cents.

It is expected the case will be taken by the railroads to the supreme court.

GETTING OUT

(By American Press)

Washington, June 24.—American refugees, fearing for their safety, are crowding aboard American warships off the Mexican coasts, according to reports received at the navy department.

Transports capable of accommodating 1,000 each are being dispatched to relay the Americans from the naval vessels to the nearest ports. Meanwhile Rear Admiral Winslow, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, is hurrying to Mazatlan with his flagship, the San Diego, to support Commander Kavanaugh, who had difficulty there in obtaining permission for Americans to leave the town. It is understood that Commander Althouse, commanding the cruiser Cleveland, has already gone to Commander Kavanaugh's assistance.

REPORTS PLEASING TO HOUGH

All Units of Ohio Militia Up to Peace Strength.

NOW READY TO MOBILIZE

Bulk of National Guard Will Not Reach Columbus Before Tuesday or Wednesday—Mobilization Camp Ready For Only Part of the Troops. Soldiers to Be Vaccinated On Arrival at the Camp.

Columbus, June 24.—Reports from all over the state to Adjutant General Hough show that all organizations in every branch of the service in the Ohio national guard are at least up to peace strength and are now ready to mobilize. Recruiting throughout Ohio during the day developed the hottest pace of the week. The mobilization camp here will be ready for only part of the troops Monday, so that the bulk of the soldiers will not arrive before Tuesday or Wednesday at best.

Colonel Joseph A. Hall, chief surgeon of the Ohio troops, received from Acting Surgeon General Fisher of the United States army the Ohio consignment of typhoid prophylaxis serum and smallpox vaccine. All troops will be vaccinated against these diseases immediately upon arrival at the mobilization camp. The acting surgeon general was stationed at the Columbus barracks a few years ago.

Word was received that 100 horses were on the way to Ohio from Kansas, and that several trainloads would follow.

Events preparatory to the mobilization moved more rapidly than any day since the issuance of President Wilson's orders. The machinery was operated more smoothly, twice the former number of men were at work at the camp, recruiting officers strained efforts and bigger and better results were attained than on any previous day.

Major A. W. Reynolds of the commissary department awarded contracts for 50,000 rations, the provisions to be delivered at the camp as soon as troops arrive, and made out a list for 100,000 more rations.

The frame buildings completed are a telephone house, the postoffice and three storehouses. There will be ten storehouses in all. Each regiment will have 15 houses for sanitary purposes, 15 kitchens and mess shelters and 19 bathhouses.

ONLY 7 MEN HAVE RETURNED

American Force Practically Wiped Out at Carrizal.

El Paso, Tex., June 24.—Reports received here in military circles say that the American force which was led into a trap by the Carranza soldiers at Carrizal on Wednesday was practically wiped out.

This information is gained by General Pershing from the stragglers who have returned to his headquarters. It is believed two troops of American cavalry were in the American command, though some officers incline to the belief that not more than one troop was engaged.

The Americans were completely surrounded by Carranza troops during their parley with the Carranza commander. It is reported by those who have returned to the Pershing camp. All the stragglers that have arrived thus far were men who were holding the horses after the cavalrymen had dismounted and gone forward.

Captain Boyd had ordered his men to dismount as the machine gun opened fire and the combined effect of the Mexican charge, the machine gun fire and the rifle fire from the Mexican garrison of Carrizal, which had almost surrounded the little American force under cover of the parley sought by General Gomez to discuss whether Captain Boyd should be allowed to pass through the town, stampeded the horses.

General Funston received orders to organize several new regiments for immediate service in the regular army and begin the work at once. Trained and seasoned regulars will be taken from the present organizations to form a nucleus for the new regiments, and promotions of several hundred officers, together with the entire 1916 class of graduates of West Point, will be used to command the new regiments which will be recruited at once to peace strength, even at the cost of reducing many companies of the present army. When this is done all companies and corps in the army will be recruited to full war strength.

ASLEEP BEFORE MARRIAGE.

Secured a License and Was Then Locked In Office.

Lawrenceburg, Ind.—Edward L. Kuhn, aged forty-five, owner of a general merchandise store in Clay township, and Mrs. Anna Moore Davis, aged forty-five, a dressmaker of the same neighborhood, were married at the parsonage of the First Baptist church by the Rev. Omeg W. Bowman, the pastor, but not at the time they planned.

Mr. Kuhn came to this city in an automobile, and the bride to be came on a late train. While waiting for Mrs. Davis Mr. Kuhn obtained a marriage license; then he sat down in the private office of the circuit court clerk and went to sleep. When the day's work was done James G. McKinney, the clerk, and his deputies, not noticing Mr. Kuhn, locked the office and went home. Mr. Kuhn awakened several hours later and found he was in the dark, locked in the office. He shouted for help several times and finally attracted the attention of Daniel E. McKennie, the sheriff, who released him. Mr. Kuhn found Mrs. Davis, who was searching the city for him, and they were married.

SAVED CHICKS' LIVES.

Telegrapher Made a Feather Duster Substitute For a Hen.

Defiance, O.—Using a feather duster as a brooder to substitute for a cannibal hen, "Shorty" Eberle saved the lives of some of his chicks.

When Eberle is not busy as manager of the Postal Telegraph company he devotes his time to raising fancy chickens. When one of his hens was not busy scratching she gave her time to digesting some of the brood she had recently hatched.

Eberle noticed the chicks began to disappear. One by one they went until he discovered the hen's appetite was stronger than her mother love. A heavy ration of ground bone and hamburger steak didn't appease her. She ate another.

Then, with a cunning he didn't suspect himself, he threw the hen out, bought a big feather duster and suspended it in the coop. The chicks snuggled among the feathers and are perfectly content with their inanimate mother.

HUMOR AS A WORLD FORCE.

Contrasting the Men Who Create With the Men Who Destroy.

Sir Herbert Tree in a lecture at the Birmingham and Midland Institute said:

"Humor may be a help or a clog in life. Many great men have been without it. I think it may be broadly stated that men of action, the great destroyers, the men who take, are as a rule devoid of humor, while men of imagination and contemplation, those who create, who give, have the gift of humor. Among those pre-eminently gifted with humor were Abraham Lincoln, Disraeli, Goethe and Helne, the late Lord Salisbury, Arthur Balfour, Dickens, Thackeray, Fielding, Shakespeare, Queen Elizabeth, Henry VIII, Charles II, Dr. Johnson, Charles Lamb, Emerson and Byron.

"I could enlarge upon this theme until your eyelids would no longer wag. But I will content myself with contrasting as typical examples of the yea and nay of humor two of the world's greatest men—Shakespeare and Napoleon, the arch creator and the arch destroyer.

"Shakespeare gave an abiding joy, one that will contribute to the happiness, the education and the ennobling of mankind throughout the ages. 'In states unborn and accents yet unknown,' Napoleon, on the other hand, took from mankind millions of lives and set humanity wailing."—London Telegraph.

A Queer Diagnosis.

A celebrated Dublin physician was Sir Dominic Corrigan, who was as much famed for his brusqueness toward patients as for his skill. In the course of some reminiscences William Charles Scully told a story of the doctor which is quite well worth quoting. "I was taken to see him," says the writer, "several times, but he always treated me with the utmost kindness. However, a highly respectable maiden aunt of mine had a different experience. She went to consult him. After sounding her—none too gently—and asking a few questions he gave a grunt and relapsed into silence. Then after a short pause of meditation he said, 'Well, ma'am, it's one of two things—either you drink or else you sit with your back to the fire.'"

DIVISION OF NUMBERS.

Rules That Will Simplify Some Examples in Arithmetic.

It is often convenient to know whether a given number is divisible by another without going through the usual process of division. Almost every one knows that however large a number may be, it is divisible by 5 if the last digit is 5 or 0. The following gives the rule for some other numbers:

A number is divisible by 2 when the last digit is divisible by 2; by 3 when the sum of the digits is divisible by 3; by 4 when the number represented by the last two digits is divisible by 4; by 5 when the number ends in 5 or 0; by 6 when it is divisible by 2 and also by 3; by 8 when the number represented by the last three digits is divisible by 8; by 9 when the sum of the digits is divisible by 9.

For example, the number 1728 is divisible by 2, because its last digit, 8, is divisible by 2; by 4, because 28 is divisible by 4, and by 8 because 728 is divisible by 8. It is also divisible by 3 and by 9 for the sum of its digits total 18, a number divisible by 3 and by 9. Since it is divisible by 2 and by 3, it is also divisible by 6.

To find whether a number is divisible by 7 you must go through the usual process of division.—Youth's Companion.

CHRISTIANS ARE NO MATCH FOR METHODISTS

The Methodists who have fallen down somewhat from their brisk spurt of good playing in the last few games, returned to their old form Friday evening by defeating the Christians who had the strongest lineup they have had all season.

Dawson pitched another faultless game fanning ten of the opposing team. He received unusually good support, Wood doing justice to his position of catcher.

The hitting of the Methodists was the best that they have done this year. Hays, Leach and Garrison all got two-base hits and every man on the team got at least one hit during the game.

Trimmer and Brown formed the battery for the Christians, but they worked in vain against the heavy hitting Methodists.

The troops lined up with some 15 on either side, leaving a space of eight feet or less through which the new men were chased and as they passed through, the men, with belts unslung, proceeded to wield the belt with all the force they could command.

A large crowd watched the sport for sometime.

Petrograd, June 24.—Four hundred persons lost their lives, according to the latest reports, when the passenger steamer Mercury was sunk in the Black Sea by a mine. The total number of persons aboard the ship was approximately 550.

The disaster occurred about ten o'clock in the morning. The passengers felt a tremendous shock in the forward part of the vessel, which staggered ahead for a ship's length and then went down, bow foremost in five minutes.

The passenger steamer Kniazpotemkin had just preceded the Mercury, and although aware of the disaster the passengers forcibly prevented her captain from putting back to give aid.
